BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

This policy is written with due regard to the DfE Guidance 2016 Behaviour and Discipline in Schools.

Introduction

Devonshire House School seeks to create an environment in the school which promotes good behaviour, self-discipline and respect for others. This is achieved by the following aims:

- To maintain an ethos of good behaviour throughout the whole school, through strong school leadership, effective classroom management, and a consistent approach that is understood by parents, teachers and pupils based on a sense of community and shared values.
- To encourage consistency of response to both positive and negative behaviour through a system of rewards and sanctions.

1. Equality Act 2010

The School has due regard to the Equality Act 2010. Whilst all pupils are expected to behave well, there may be some pupils with conditions, such as ADHD, for whom reasonable adjustments to classroom management need to be made. Pupils with special educational needs or disabilities may also be targets for unpleasant behaviour from other children, and due care should be taken to prevent this.

2. Behaviour Management;

High standards of conduct and behaviour are expected from all pupils, in and out of the classroom, on school trips or visits, and in journeying to and from school.

To achieve this staff must be consistent in their approach, firstly by rewarding good behaviour and secondly by not tolerating poor behaviour. However, praise/awards must be deserved, otherwise their value is undermined and eventually they become meaningless.

Staff should:

- Enforce the School Rules - Code of Conduct - CONSISTENTLY.
- Not be over familiar with pupils i.e. keeping a professional relationship.
- Demonstrate courtesy to children - and colleagues - at all times.
- Be sensitive to pupils' problems and special needs.
- Respect the children, their views and their feelings and not use sarcasm. It can be hurtful.

When dealing with an incident of poor behaviour staff should:

- Give pupils the opportunity to explain their behaviour or grievance.
- Never threaten anything they cannot carry out.
- Give the appropriate sanction or refer to a senior colleague if that is more appropriate.
- Ensure the form teachers of all children involved are informed
- Remain patient and tolerant, and think before they speak.

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

3. School Leadership

The Head has responsibility for the good conduct of the pupils in the school. In order for this to be effective, this behaviour policy is discussed regularly in staff meetings and is reviewed annually.

The Deputy Heads of Early Years: Miss Tessa Denham, Junior School: Ms Andrea Rutterford and Upper School: Mr Rob Viganò have responsibility for the day to day running of their sections of the school and will generally be responsible for the recording of sanctions, the keeping of the discipline log and the running of more serious sanctions such as detentions. Any more serious sanction will always be discussed with the Head before being given to the child. Parents will always be informed in writing.

Members of the Senior Management Team will give guidance on good behaviour in assemblies, using topics such as religious tolerance and understanding disabilities (e.g. stories for Jeans for Genes Day) as well as regular reminders of the school rules.

All staff are responsible for good behaviour and should lead by example. Colleagues should be respectful to one another, and should enforce any sanctions given by another. Should they feel a sanction was not deserved they should refer this to a senior colleague and not indicate this to the child.

4. Classroom Management

Children behave better if they are enjoying school, and enjoying their lessons. A well-structured curriculum delivered through well planned and effective lessons should achieve this.

Thorough planning for the needs of individual pupils, the active involvement of pupils in their own learning and structured feed-back all help to avoid the alienation and disaffection that can lie at the root of poor behaviour.

It follows that lessons should have clear objectives, be understood by the children, and differentiated to meet the needs of children of different abilities. Marking and record keeping can be used as a supportive activity, providing feed-back to the children on their progress and achievements, and as a signal that the children's efforts are valued and that progress matters.

In addition, teachers should:

- Create a positive climate with realistic expectations;
- Encourage relationships based on kindness, respect and understanding of the needs of others; promote, through example, honesty and courtesy;
- Ensure fair treatment for all regardless of age, gender, race, ability and disability; but make reasonable adjustments to classroom management for pupils with learning difficulties of disabilities (see SEND policy).
- Show appreciation of the efforts and contribution of all.
- Ensure sufficient challenge and avoid pupil boredom leading to distraction.
- Ensure all pupils are involved in lessons.
- Ensure pupils do not waste time waiting e.g. for a turn, for work to be marked.
- Ensure pupils have nothing in their hands to distract them during lessons.
- Avoid marking in class when teaching should be taking place.
- Point out and reward good examples of behaviour.
- Deal immediately with minor offences e.g. calling out, talking inappropriately during a lesson.

5. Behaviour Strategy and the Teaching of Good Behaviour;

a) Behaviour and attitude

EYFS

The discipline policy in the Foundation Stage seeks to firmly but gently give guidance as to appropriate behaviour and conduct both in the classroom and throughout the school. At this age, teaching pupils right and wrong is a necessity and we are careful to administer discipline in a positive and nurturing way. Pupils are introduced to Circle Time and the accompanying Golden Rules early in the Foundation Stage.

Day to day incidents of inappropriate behaviour are dealt with by the class teacher. Negative consequences are balanced with positive reinforcement. When a child's behaviour or attitude is unacceptable they should be made aware of this quietly and firmly. Discussion between teacher and child forms the initial stage of behaviour management, to ensure that the child clearly understands what is wrong. If inappropriate behaviour persists, the pupil is isolated from the situation for a short period of time, or given a three minute time out to rethink his or her actions (PR/R), or in some cases a home/school sticker chart is started to encourage good behaviour. In the Nursery, repeated incidents are logged in an Incident book which helps to track patterns of behaviour or possible triggers.

Repeated incidents of bad behaviour are reported to the Deputy Head of Early Years and any unacceptable behaviour is reported to the Headmistress. Parents are notified of any changes in behaviour or if a child exhibits unacceptable behaviour towards another child. All complaints about other children's behaviour are fully investigated and children are encouraged to approach staff if they have been upset by another child.

Misbehaviour towards other children and adults

This can vary from simple bad manners and rudeness to bullying so it is important that appropriate sanctions are issued. It should be made clear to the child that his/ her behaviour is 'unacceptable' and he or she should be asked if he or she understands. An apology to 'injured parties' should be made immediately.

Positive reinforcement forms an important part of our behaviour policy. Pupils are awarded stickers for appropriate behaviour. Good work, good manners and good behaviour are reinforced with Courtesy Badges awarded in our Thursday assembly (for Pre Reception and Reception classes). Each child receives approximately one badge per term. We also award Whole Class Courtesy Badges.

Each class in the Early Years regularly discusses the Golden Rules and why it is important to try and stick to them: working well with others, being polite and helpful, respecting others, listening well, looking after equipment and the school environment and being a good friend. These are reinforced in Courtesy Assembly. In addition, the PSHEE Scheme of Work includes topics that address friendship and tolerance; for example: religious tolerance, disability, working together, how to be a good friend.

Each Pre Reception class uses an animal related whole class behaviour chart to focus on, promote and reward positive behaviour in school.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

Each Reception class uses the 'traffic light' system to focus on, promote and reward positive behaviour in school. These are displayed at the children's height in the classroom.

The children's names start each new day on 'green' and if their name is on 'green' at the end of the day, they receive a sticker. If a child's behaviour or attitude is 'unacceptable', the child is given a warning that what he/she is doing is wrong, and if they continue, their name moves onto 'yellow', or if their name is on 'yellow' it will move onto 'red'.

If a name needs to be moved, the child will do it themselves, however, the teacher talks to the child beforehand, to ensure that they clearly understand what is wrong and after their name is moved, the teacher and child will discuss what he/she can do to help move their name back down to 'green'.

If a child's name moves onto 'red', the teacher and child discuss his/her actions, again making the child aware that what they did was wrong. The child is given a three minute time out and then visits the Deputy Head.

Junior School

Alongside the school's code of conduct and the Golden Rules, the Junior School implements the 'Stay on Green' system to focus on, promote and reward positive behaviour in school. The 'Stay on Green' system allows all pupils an opportunity to make positive choices about their behaviour, which is noticed and rewarded in a number of ways.

All pupils have their name and a green card on the 'Stay on Green' display in their classroom and all pupils start each new day on green. Particularly good behaviour can result in being awarded a silver or gold card. If children move to 'silver' they will be given a silver sticker by the class teacher and be sent to another class to be praised. If the child achieves a 'gold', then they will be given a golden sticker. They will be recorded in the special 'Golden Book' which will be shared during assembly and also awarded a certificate to take home.

If pupils make negative choices about their behaviour, they will first be given 'good advice' as a reminder. If children move to 'yellow' they will have ten minutes time out to reflect and moving to 'red' will result in a visit to the Deputy Head and loss of five minutes 'Golden Time'.

All pupils receive 'Golden Time' on Fridays, when they are rewarded with half an hour of free choice time. Golden Time activities are discussed together with the children as they have earned this time and need to take ownership of it. Therefore, activities are guided by the pupils' choice. Board games, as well as art and craft activities are allowed and pupils may occasionally bring to school their own toys as a reward on Fridays to play with during Golden Time.

Each class in the Junior School regularly discusses the Golden Rules and why it is important to try and stick to them: working well with others, being polite and helpful, respecting others, listening well, looking after equipment and the school environment and being a good friend. This system allows pupils to take responsibility for their own actions and be praised for being positive role models by making the right choices, as well as being recognised and valued for the part they play in the school community.

Repeated incidents of bad behaviour are reported to the Deputy Head of Junior School and any unacceptable behaviour is reported to the Head. Parents are notified of any changes in behaviour or if a child exhibits unacceptable behaviour towards another child. All complaints about other children's behaviour are fully investigated and children are encouraged to approach staff if they have been upset by another child.

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

Children should be reminded of what we expect and of the consequences if they continue to misbehave. Staff should always ask the child if they understand what they have done wrong as misunderstandings can lead to problems that could be avoided.

a) Misbehaviour towards other children and adults

This can vary from simple bad manners and rudeness to bullying so it is important that appropriate sanctions are issued. It should be made clear to the child that his/ her behaviour is 'unacceptable' and he or she should be asked if he or she understands. An apology to 'injured parties' should be made immediately.

b) Attitude to school-work, homework and other school related activities

In discussing this, staff should think back to their own school experiences. Which teachers do they remember and why? This can give a valuable 'benchmark' for discussion. If a child is not producing the work expected, teachers should ask why?

- Do the pupils understand what is expected of them?
- Do they understand what has been asked of them?
- Have they been given work they are not capable of doing?
- Are expectations reasonable?
- Are there other factors that are causing the problem and are staff fully aware of them?

6. Rewards and Sanctions

Rewards

Our emphasis is on rewards to reinforce good behaviour, rather than on failures. We believe that rewards have a motivational role, helping children to see that good behaviour is valued. The emphasis should be always on the positive approach of encouragement and praise, rather than on the more negative one of criticism and punishment. Not all pupils can come 'top' of the class and it is important that a good attitude to work and consistent effort is rewarded. Rewards can also be given for sensible and helpful behaviour.

Praise and Reward can be given in many ways and might include the following:

Informal

- a quiet word or positive verbal comment
- an exercise book comment, either in general terms "well done", or for a more detailed way, picking out specific points or ideas that gave pleasure;
- a public word of praise in front of a group, a class, a year or the whole school;
- a visit to the Deputy Head / Head for a special sticker;
- use of School reports to comment favourably, not only on good work and academic achievement, but on behaviour, on involvement and on general attitude.

EYFS and Junior School Courtesy and Achievement Awards

For Pre Reception and Reception there is the weekly award of a Courtesy Badge for courtesy or politeness, NOT for academic achievement. There is also a whole class Courtesy Badge. For pupils

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

in No 69 Achievement Badges are awarded for a greater range of efforts, both academic and pastoral in nature. Good work is recognised and praised with visits to the Deputy Head to show their work and receive a special sticker. In Friday morning assemblies children who have shown exceptional behaviour are mentioned in the Golden Book and awarded a certificate.

Incremental Rewards - House Points

Everyone in the School - staff and pupils* - is allocated to one of four Houses:

- Austen (red)
- Churchill (yellow)
- Nelson (green)
- Nightingale (blue)

All pupils wear a badge showing their House colour as above. Lost badges must be paid for. Staff should keep a current House List in the red ring bind folder provided in US.

The system is used to engender team spirit and healthy competition. (See Discipline Policy) Children in the Junior and Upper School are given House Points and the Upper School pupils participate in inter-house competitions, e.g. spelling, games, music and general knowledge.

House Points are given by staff to children for various reasons. Below are listed a few examples: -

- Courtesy
- Demonstrating initiative
- Completing special tasks for staff
- Outstanding classwork or homework (a good standard is always expected)
- Improvement in classwork or homework (relative to ability)
- Special performances - Singing, playing, reading in assemblies
- Assisting in the Junior school
- Assisting at parent functions

Generally, one House Point is given for each task/event, with an absolute maximum of three House Points for any one reason and that would be exceptional.

House Points are to be collated and entered onto the school's admin system by Form teachers by 4 pm on a Thursday each week. A designated teacher will then produce the House point certificates for the Upper School Friday assembly and the weekly totals, the Junior school totals are included. Other certificates are also be given out in the Upper School Thursday assembly for exceptionally good and or consistently good work, particularly on a project.

For pupils in the Junior School, House Points may occasionally be awarded to everyone in the class for the same event, for example a class trip or special assembly. In Upper School, House Points are individual and must be won on individual merit.

Junior School

Children in P1 - P3 are introduced to the House Point System. They are given House Points to recognise special achievements. These points are indicated on the House Point Chart in the No. 69 building and awards for these are given in Friday assemblies. They are also included in the overall

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

House Point totals for the Junior School and Year group awards. Children whose class has gained the most House Points within the year group receive a special sticker on a Friday and a special award on the House Point board. J/S House points should also be sent U/S Deputy Head for inclusion in totals i.e. weekly or termly

Upper School

Upper School pupils have homework diaries with a House Point record sheet in. They take these to every lesson. Whenever a teacher awards a House Point they indicate it in the homework diary and initial it. This is then entered onto the system as detailed above. Other members of staff e.g. Admin, can also give House points but will need to send a note/email to the Form teacher.

Six points or more in any week are noted in the Friday Assembly; 25, 50, 75 and 100 etc. House Points in any one term are rewarded with a certificate.

On Speech Day a trophy is presented to the pupil who has been awarded most House Points during the academic year, as recorded in the Homework Diary. Loss of the Homework Diary means he or she has to start again. Replacements for lost Homework diaries will be charged for.

Total House Points for each House are announced each Friday and then posted on the Bulletin Board. Members of the form with most points at the end of each week receive the 'Star Table of the Week' award and get to have a special table setup in the Long Hall including tablecloth etc. They also get to go in to lunch first. On Speech Day the House which has the most points for the academic year is awarded a Cup. This is received by the House Captains.

Speech Day Awards

For each class there are awards for:

- Excellence (all round)
- Most Progress
- The Head' Prize for Contribution (U/S)

There are numerous other 'special' awards e.g.:

- specific subjects
- initiative
- effort
- sportsmanship
- kindness

Sanctions

Although rewards are central to the encouragement of good behaviour, realistically there is also a need for sanctions. The Early Years, Junior School and Upper School Deputy Heads keep a record of sanctions imposed upon pupils for misbehaviour. Where it is felt necessary for parents to be called in to school this is deemed serious misbehaviour and recorded in the centralised log held by the Head. This records the child's name, year group, the nature and date of the offence and the sanction.

Sanctions exist to discourage future misbehaviour in the individual and to indicate to others that poor behaviour is not acceptable and will lead to considerable inconvenience. The aim is an orderly community not a punitive school. In an environment where respect is central, loss of respect, or disapproval, is a powerful punishment.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

The use of punishment should be characterised by certain features:-

- It must be clear why the sanction is being applied.
- It must be made clear what changes in behaviour are required to avoid future punishment.
- Group punishment should be avoided as they breed resentment.
- There should be a clear distinction between minor and major offences.

On no account should a pupil be told to stand outside a room for misbehaviour. It is not permitted and should the pupil meet with a mishap, the teacher may be held responsible. If a child's behaviour is very disruptive then they should be separated and sat on their own, possibly at the side of the teacher's desk. If it is felt that further intervention is required then a member of SMT should be summoned.

Early Years

In the Early Years Foundation Stage a quiet word and a reminder of what is expected is usually sufficient. The teacher might ask the child to sit quietly for a few moments or take away a few minutes of Activity Time (child-initiated play). If a child has misbehaved it might be necessary for the class teacher to speak the parents at the end of the day to help reinforce the expectation of good behaviour. In Reception, with the 'traffic light' system, children are always given a warning before their name is moved onto 'yellow' or 'red'. If a child moves onto 'red' they are given three minutes time out and visit the Deputy Head.

Other sanctions, depending upon the severity and regularity of the behaviour, may include:

- Send to another class
- Send to Deputy Head
- Start a home/school sticker chart to encourage good behaviour

Junior School sanctions might include:

In the first instance, following the 'Stay on Green' system, pupils will first be given 'good advice' as a reminder. If children move to 'yellow' they will have ten minutes time out to reflect and moving to 'red' will result in a visit to the Deputy Head and a loss of five minutes 'Golden Time'. Parents will also be informed via the class teacher.

Other sanctions, depending upon the severity and regularity of the behaviour, may include:

- A chore to do
- Withdrawal of privilege e.g. Club
- Isolate within the classroom
- Send to another class
- Send to Deputy Head
- Send to Head
- Talk to parents [the Head must be fully informed before and after talk]
- For persistent poor behaviour, pupils may be put on a target card to report to class teacher and Deputy Head as necessary.
- Suspension (this would be very rare in the Junior School)
- Expulsion (this would be very rare in the Junior School)

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

Upper School - in addition to the above:

- It is useful to record even minor misdemeanours in a child's homework diary, this has the advantage of being a sanction - since most children dislike having their parents involved. It also gives the school's version of events to the parent, thus preventing a child playing one off against the other.
- Lose free time - repeat written assignment at playtime (U/S)
- Detention - Upper School (see below)
- On report - Upper School - this should only be done after discussion of the child at a Staff Meeting and with the agreement of the Head. By this means, a check can be kept on the pupil before more stringent action is taken.
- Suspension
- Expulsion

For all of the above, Upper School Pupils should also be given ORDER MARKS but the child must be quite clear as to why the order mark has been given.

In the Upper School a yellow warning card is also used in lessons if a child is misbehaving i.e. continually talking or calling out. The card is placed on the desk in front of the child which then gives the child the opportunity to modify their behaviour. Should the child not take this opportunity the card can be converted into an Order mark.

Order Marks - Upper School

Staff should always refer unacceptable behaviour to the Deputy Head, and unacceptable homework or classwork to the Academic Deputy Head Director of Studies. They should also inform the Form Teacher.

Order marks are only awarded in the Upper School and are not given to U4's in the first half of the Autumn term.

Other sanctions will be used if necessary and this is explained to the children at the beginning of term.

Order marks are given to children as a reminder of school rules and procedures that they have already had explained to them. They are generally given to persistent offenders and not for isolated offences.

Order marks may only be given by staff, not, as is sometimes understood by the children, by Prefects. However, a Prefect may refer a misbehaving child to a member of staff, who may then issue an order mark. If an order mark is given, it should be recorded in the Homework Diary with a brief reason.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

The following is a list of misdemeanours that may receive order marks: -

Running in the buildings or on the stairs	1 (after 1 st warning)
Being in a classroom without permission	1 (instant)
Being in a building or other area without permission	1 (instant)
Forgetting books/equipment	1 (after 3 rd occurrence)
Forgetting games kit/equipment	1 (after 3 rd occurrence)
Knowingly handing in an exercise book when homework has not been done	2 (plus the homework must be completed at the first available break)
Damaging school property	1 to 3 (dependent on severity)
Damaging or taking other children's property	1 to 3 (dependent on severity)
Persistent talking in lessons	1 (after 2 nd warning)
Rudeness	1 (instant)
Lying	1 (instant)
Being out of a lesson without a hall pass	1 (after 2 nd occurrence)
H/W not handed in, incomplete or inadequate	Homework must be completed at the first available break - Not an order mark

Bullying will be dealt with separately by the Deputy Head or Head (see Anti-Bullying Policy)

Detention

If, after repeated warnings, an Upper School pupil does not comply with what is expected in terms of behaviour the next level of punishment will be detention.

A total of 4 Order marks will also result in detention. This will be for one hour after school 4.00 - 5.00 on a day convenient to the Deputy Head who will supervise extra work (NOT HOMEWORK) and will notify the parents in writing beforehand.

Should the deterrent of a detention not be sufficient to show the pupil the error of their ways and they continue to amass order marks to the detriment of their House, then they may be suspended from that House at the discretion of the Head.

In Upper 8, a more mature attitude is required. Any Upper 8 acquiring 3 or more order marks in one week will receive a detention in the first instance and then, if necessary, a two hour Saturday detention will be the next step.

The Upper School Deputy Head will issue the detention letters.

Academic Detention

An Academic Detention should be organised for a child who has failed to do a piece of work to a satisfactory standard or failed to produce either satisfactory homework or any homework at all. Care should be taken for children on the Learning Support register and if in doubt staff should consult with the Deputy Head - Academic. It will not generally be appropriate to recommend an Academic Detention for an U4 child in the Autumn Term.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

Report card

A pupil who amasses a large number of order marks will be seen by the Deputy Head and then the Head and may be put on Report Card. This can be for behaviour, but could also be for organisation, or for effort. The Report Card is taken to every lesson and the teacher signs it with a comment and a grade for effort and achievement. This is designed to give frequent reminders to the pupil about behaviour, and hopefully, many 'A' grades will give them a sense of achievement and boost their confidence.

The Parent and Deputy Head sign the Card daily. The completed card is then brought to the Head. If deemed satisfactory the pupil may come off report, if not he or she will have a new card.

A report card is NOT a punishment, but a mechanism to encourage good behaviour, improved organisation and better concentration. Parents will be informed by the Deputy Head in writing prior to the pupil being put on the Report Card.

Suspension

For serious incidents contravening school rules the Head may make the decision to suspend a pupil for one or more days. This will be done after all evidence has been gathered and further to a conversation with all involved and with parents. A letter will be written detailing the incident and the process to be followed. On their return the pupil will meet with the Head to discuss the incident and to agree the way forward.

Expulsion

On the rare occasion where it is agreed by all concerned that the student needs to be asked to leave the school, the Head will meet with parents to discuss the issues. Every effort will be made to help and support parents in finding a future school option. The Head will inform School Governance.

Rewards are to recognise and encourage positive behaviour and attainment, in any of the following forms:

- A verbal expression of praise
- A written comment on a piece of work
- A symbol of praise - a sticker, star or stamp
- The award of a House Point, or points
- Recognition given in Assembly, to success of differing kinds
- The giving of responsibilities or tasks as a reward
- Display of work
- The award of a formal certificate presented by the Head in Assembly
- Any of the above to groups of children for group, team, or collective endeavour or achievement.

Incidents involving More than One Child

Sanctions

If an incident of any sort occurs:

a) It is important that it is logged. Clearly a member of staff's first responsibility is to the children, and specifically any child who is hurt, physically or emotionally, in any way. However, once the situation has been dealt with it is important that it is written up and that the procedure that followed is therefore recorded. It is much easier to do this as soon as possible. This log should then be passed to the Deputy Head, who can then deal with any issues that may remain.

b) For events involving two or more children it is important that the child or children concerned also give their record of events in writing, if they are able to. The procedure is to sit down all those who witnessed or took part in the incident with pen and paper and ask them to write a full account of what happened. As most incidents happen when a member of staff is not present this helps you to get a full picture, also it is easier for the children to write an honest account rather than to speak, and thus 'tell tales'. This procedure also gives a serious formality to the incident, which is often better than a reprimand, and allows everyone to calm down. If there is reasonable reason to suspect that a child is suffering, or likely to suffer significant harm then such abuse will be referred to the local authority as a child protection concern,

c) If a child is seriously hurt, either emotionally or physically, then the Head should be informed and parents will be contacted as soon as possible. Staff should not contact the parents themselves.

Corporal punishment

Under no circumstances may corporal punishment be used or threatened on any pupil during any activity, whether or not within the school premises. This prohibition applies to all members of staff.

Reasonable force/Physical intervention

The Education and Inspections Act 2006 enables school staff to use "such force as is reasonable in the circumstances to prevent pupils from hurting themselves or others, from damaging property, or from causing disorder.

Current DfE guidance gives the following, not exhaustive, list of examples when reasonable force may be used:

- to remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so;
- to prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;
- to prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others;
- to prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground; and
- to restrain a pupil at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts.

However, no member of staff may use force as a punishment - it is always unlawful to use force as a punishment.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

Power to search pupils without consent

In addition to the general power to use reasonable force described above, the Head and authorised staff can use such force as is reasonable given the circumstances to conduct a search for certain “prohibited items”. These include stolen items and any article that has been or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property.

The use of reasonable force / physical intervention applies where a member of the staff of a school is (a) on the premises of the school, or (b) elsewhere at a time when, as a member of its staff, s/he has lawful control or charge of the pupil concerned.

Any instances involving physical intervention by a member of staff will be recorded, and parents should be informed on the same day or as soon as is reasonably practicable.

7. Staff Development and Support

Misbehaviour is discussed at staff meetings. There can be times when a particular class is causing problems. Staff should be honest about difficulties they are having as in sharing their experience they may find others have similar problems, or have developed strategies that could help them.

Strategies that can help a problematic class could include:

- Rearranging the seating
- Separating a particular disruptive child
- Having a Learning Support teacher in the lesson
- Planning for changes in pace in the lesson so that children are engaged and interested

However, problematic classes are best avoided by following the behaviour policy and having a consistent approach to poor behaviour.

Should any member of staff need any further support with maintaining discipline and encouraging good behaviour then this will form part of their Teacher Review, even if this arises out of the normal cycle of Review. Details of the support that is available for members of staff are given in the School Policy for Continuing Professional Development. As well as INSET, these include coaching and mentoring; allowing a personal, flexible and supportive approach.

8. Support Systems for Pupils

Pupils who have received several sanctions may find it difficult to modify their behaviour. Their peers may have come to expect their inappropriate behaviour and they can end up ‘playing to the gallery’. This can be particularly true of ADHD pupils.

Through circle time, or other strategies, pupils should be encouraged to give peer support and help their errant colleague earn respect.

A child who has been on the receiving end of unpleasant behaviour, has effectively been bullied even if this was not the intention. The victim and the bully must both receive appropriate support and it may be made clear to all that unpleasant behaviour is not tolerated. (see Antibullying policy)

9. Liaison with Parents and other Agencies

Parents should always be informed of any sanctions.

The form teacher should inform them of minor sanctions via the Homework Diary.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE SCHOOL

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

The Deputy Head will inform parents of more serious incidents and sanctions. The Head will meet with the parents should an incident be so serious that suspension is being considered. After consultation with parents the school may recommend seeking the advice of Educational Psychologists, GP or LEA specialists.

10. Managing Pupils' Transition

When pupils move to another School, it is usual for a report to be requested from the Head. On the report, there will normally be questions about behaviour. It is important that such reports are honest in order to avoid a poor reputation from Senior Schools. Older pupils being prepared for Senior School entry and their parents should all be made aware of the importance of the Heads' report, and that poor behaviour may prejudice their chances of entry to the School of their choice. Concerns about a move to a new School can cause anxiety that itself triggers episodes of poor behaviour. Parents should be made aware of this and suitable strategies discussed with them.

11. Organisation and Facilities

The Senior Management Team are all experienced in managing poor behaviour and staff should consult with them at an early stage should they have any concerns. The Learning Support staff are also available to advise and can come into a class in order to observe any child causing concern. Poor behaviour may be disguising, or even symptomatic, of a learning problem. Poor eyesight / hearing can also be a trigger for boredom and thus poor behaviour and any such concerns should be discussed with the School Nurse.

It is important that all concerns are recorded and a Pupil Concern Form should be filled out and a copy passed to the Form Teacher, Deputy Head and Head. Any further meetings with the child, or with the parents, should also be recorded and copies distributed as above.

12. Disciplinary action against pupils who are found to have made malicious accusations against staff.

Any allegation against a member of staff is taken extremely seriously (see Safeguarding policy). Should an allegation be found to be unfounded or malicious then this may result in suspension or expulsion.

13. Register of Sanctions

This is held by the Headmistress and is updated each term. A review of the register takes place at the first SMT of each term to look at patterns of behaviour, the need to update schools systems or the requirement for specific PSHEE support to individual or all areas of the school in either assemblies or other formats.

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

This policy is for the whole school including EYFS.

14. Conclusion

The School prides itself on the good behaviour of its pupils. This is achieved by maintaining an ethos of mutual respect between pupils and staff together with the excellent quality of teaching.

This is not to say that instances of poor behaviour do not occur from time to time. No teacher should ever feel isolated when facing a disciplinary problem. Any sanctions are essentially temporary measures and pupils will only learn to exercise self-discipline and behave in the desired manner when they have respect for the school as an institution and develop a caring and respectful attitude towards their teachers and their peers.

BEHAVIOUR AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

General - for new teachers

Colleagues new to the profession may find the following suggestions relating to classroom discipline to be of some use:-

- a) Due to the nature of the school and some of the narrow passages and stairways, children may enter a classroom if the teacher is not present to alleviate congestion. The pupils will enter the classroom in an orderly manner, stand behind their chairs in silence and await the arrival of the teacher. At this point Form Captains and Vice Captains should monitor the class and report any misdemeanours to the teacher. Once the teacher arrives, they should see that the pupils remain standing until given permission to sit down and that when the lesson ends they leave only when instructed to do so and in good order.
- b) A quiet, orderly beginning to a lesson is essential. Begin on a formal basis. It is easy to relax but hard to go the other way.
- c) Do not allow pupils to talk whilst you are teaching. Stop the lesson, if necessary, until you have everyone's attention.
- d) Keep a store of pens, pencils, etc., for forgetful younger pupils, but train them to remember their own equipment. Recover your loaned items immediately the lesson ends. Keep a careful check. What goes out must be returned.
- e) Do not tolerate the slightest hint of insolence, disruptive or uncooperative behaviour. If you cannot deal with it yourself, report it to the Form Teacher. In an emergency, send for the Deputy Head or the Head.
- f) Never strike a child, use sarcastic language or speak in a contemptuous tone. These tactics do more harm than good - they inhibit the building of normal relationships and could place the school in an indefensible position.
- g) The most positive way of preserving good discipline in the classroom is by your own detailed and varied preparation of work and by the creation of an atmosphere of genuine, mutual respect, based on your interest in their work and their drive to succeed.
- h) Be consistent. The children must also know that every time their work or behaviour is unacceptable there is an automatic unpleasant consequence awaiting.
- i) Never allow pupils to chew sweets or gum in lessons, or anywhere else. Insist on tidiness. Do not permit litter or misuse of furniture or equipment.
- j) Children play truant with their minds when they lose interest and become bored. Make your lessons stimulating so that pupils are motivated and want to learn.

Conclusion

The best kind of discipline is self-discipline which can only be achieved by the quality of relationships which exist within the school together with the content and quality of the teaching.
